Cooperative "Raise and Release" Program Applications Due by March 25

The opening of the application period for the cooperative Day-Old Pheasant Chick Program to enhance opportunities for pheasant hunting in New York has begun, the State Department of Environmental Conservation (DEC) announced today.

The program provides pheasant hunting opportunities through a partnership among DEC, sportsmen and sportswomen, 4-H youth groups, and landowners interested in rearing and releasing pheasants. The program is funded through the State Conservation Fund, which is supported by license fees paid by hunters, trappers, and anglers. The Day-Old Pheasant Chick Program began in the early 1900s, when pheasant eggs and chicks were distributed to farmers and rural youth. Today, day-old chicks are available at no cost to participants who are able to provide a brooding facility, a covered outdoor rearing pen, and an adequate release site. Daily care is necessary to monitor the health of the birds and to ensure there is adequate feed and water for the rapidly growing chicks. The pheasants may be released when they are eight weeks old and no later than Dec. 1. Approved applicants will receive the day-old chicks in April, May, or June. All release sites must be approved in advance by DEC and must be open for public pheasant hunting opportunities. In 2016, DEC distributed more than 34,000 day-old pheasant chicks to qualified applicants. Individuals interested in this program should contact the nearest DEC regional wildlife office for applications and additional information (see information below). Applications must be filed with a DEC regional wildlife manager by March 25. A "Pheasant Rearing Guide" and applications are also available on DEC's website.

"Miss Grace" will be presenting our Wednesday Story Hours and will be offering more programming as well. She will also be available on Saturdays from 10-2 starting February 4 to answer questions, provide suggestions, and offer special programs. There will be a party and celebration for families in our community, on Saturday, February 4, at 10 a.m. to welcome Miss Grace to our library and to officially start out our new Saturday hours. Based on community response, the Community Free Library in Holley will be open from 10

-2 on Saturdays throughout the school year, starting Saturday, February 4. Please stop in, enjoy the event, and make her feel welcome.

The children's librarian position was made possible thanks to a grant from Senator Rob Ort.

CLARENDON TOWN BOARD—Meeting Highlights January 2017

OPEN END

County Legislator John DeFilipps informed that the County intends to replace the culvert bridge on South Holley Road, south of Route 31A, this summer.

HIGHWAY/WATER DEPARTMENT REPORT

Superintendent Swanger reported salting the roads due to the freezing rain last month. The highway employees have attended the Health Department's first responders training and the Department of Labor's follow-up on inspection was good. One new furnace has been installed at the highway garage and is working well. The second one will be installed in two or three weeks. Triple O is doing the work. The house fire on Munger Road used 40 to 50 thousand gallons of water and there was a controlled burn on LaDue Road. One grave was dug today; another burial is planned for next Saturday.

SUPERVISOR REPORT

Supervisor Moy will meet with Chatfield Engineers tomorrow to look at probable areas for Water District No. 12. Supervisor acknowledged that Art Kaminski, past Zoning Board Chairman, passed away. The Board agreed to waive the additional fee for Saturday burial in Hillside Cemetery for Art. Supervisor Moy presented a pie chart showing the breakdown of taxes paid; School 58% (85% of cost is State and Federal mandates); County 26% (76% of cost is State and Federal Mandates); Town 13%; Fire 3%; Library 1%.

CORRESPONDENCE

The Orleans County Legislature has approved the 2017 sales tax apportionment to towns and villages. It is based on population; Clarendon $116,260.89. Heritage Wind, LLC sent notice and requested input regarding its proposed turbine project based in the Town of Barre. Chatfield Engineers has sent an engineering service proposal for the Clarendon Hillside Cemetery Chapel Restoration project.

OLD BUSINESS

A request to have the speed limit lowered on Upper Holley Road and Upper Holley Road Extension coming into the hamlet has been sent. We've not yet received a response. Legislator DeFilipps informed that for 2017, the Animal Control Contract with the County will be the same as in 2016.

NEW BUSINESS

The Town Board approved an increase in the water rate of $.15 per thousand gallons pursuant to an increase to the Town from Monroe County Water Authority. The new rate will be $3.50 per thousand gallons effective usage from January 1, 2017. The Board authorized expenditure of budgeted highway monies and set $2.00 each as a bulk rate for over five tires that the highway department takes for residents.

Greetings to all of you – or should I say BRRR! Well, it's that time of year and cold or not, I better get at the nonsense. With all the new technology regarding fertility, recently a sixty five year old friend of mine was able to give birth. When she got home from the hospital, I went to see her and the baby. When I asked her if I could see the baby, she said, "Not yet, let's have a cup of coffee and visit for a while." After 30 minutes had passed, I asked, "Can I see the baby now?" "No, not yet", she replied. Getting impatient, I asked, "Well, when can I see the baby?" "When he cries", she said. "Why do I have to wait until he cries?" I asked. "Because I forgot where I put him, OK?" You know barbers make good drivers. They know all the short cuts. A young lady put an ad in one of those singles websites looking for a boyfriend. I asked her what kind of a guy she was looking for. She said she wanted an ambitious guy who likes to dig in to get the job done and is really down to earth, and I think I found him. "So, what does he do?" "He's a grave digger." I need to start eating healthier, but first I need to eat all the junk food in the house so it's not there to tempt me anymore. I was shocked to find out that the handle on my recliner does not qualify as an exercise machine. Some different definitions: Barium: what you do with dead people. Enema: not a friend. Labor pain: getting hurt at work. Terminal illness: getting sick at the train station. Varicose: near-by. Nitrates: cheaper than day rates. Remember, a man who throws mud, loses ground. Marriage is the most expensive way for a man to get his laundry done free. Don't mess with people who serve your food.

Some odd questions: Would a fly without wings be called a 'walk'? Isn't it a bit unnerving that doctors call what they do 'practice'? Why don't sheep shrink when it rains? One nice thing about egotists, they don't talk about other people. If you try to fail and succeed, which have you done? You can fool all the people all the time if the advertising is right and the budget is big enough. The money's no better in retirement, but the hours are. If the funeral procession is at night, do folks drive with their lights off? Some NEVERS: NEVER accept a drink from a urologist. NEVER insult seven men if you're only carrying a six shooter. NEVER hit a man with glasses – hit him with something much bigger and heavier. NEVER put off till tomorrow what you can get someone else to do today. Words of wisdom from famous people: Happiness is having a large, loving, caring, close knit family in another city. "My grandmother is over eighty and still doesn't need glasses. Drinks right out of the bottle." I always advise people to never give advice. Teacher asked pupil: "Define onion". "An onion", explained pupil, "builds you up physically and tears you down socially." A hen pecked husband I know will only go to a woman dentist. He says it makes him happy to hear a woman tell him to open his mouth instead of shut it. A northerner asked a southerner, "Is there any other cure for snake bites besides whiskey?" Who cares whether there is or not", drawled the southerner.

THIS MONTH'S RIDDLES:

- 1) How did the gambler feel at the race track?
- 2) Why do smokers whisper?
- 3) When does Dracula help a baseball team?
- 4) What do you call an artificial stone?
- 5) What do you serve that you can't eat?

When your mind wanders, maybe you should follow it. A closed mouth gathers no feet. Being polite has become so rare that it's often mistaken for flirting. If you think you are addicted to the hokey-pokey, it's time to turn yourself around. If you retire in the deep South, you can rent a movie and buy bait in the same store. He needed killing is a valid defense. Everything is either "in yonder", "over yonder", or "out yonder". It's important to know the difference. Or you can retire to New York City where you think eye contact is an act of aggression. You believe that being able to swear at people in their own language makes you multi-lingual. I need to get in shape. If I was murdered right now, my chalk line would be a circle.

by Helen Steiner Rice

Kindness is a virtue
Given by the Lord.
It pays dividends in happiness
And joy is its reward
For, if you practice kindness
In all you say and do
The Lord will wrap his kindness
Around your heart and you
And wrapped within his kindness
You are sheltered and secure
And under his direction
Your way is safe and sure.

That's all this time. Have a great month.
Adios and God Bless!

Hillside Sketches

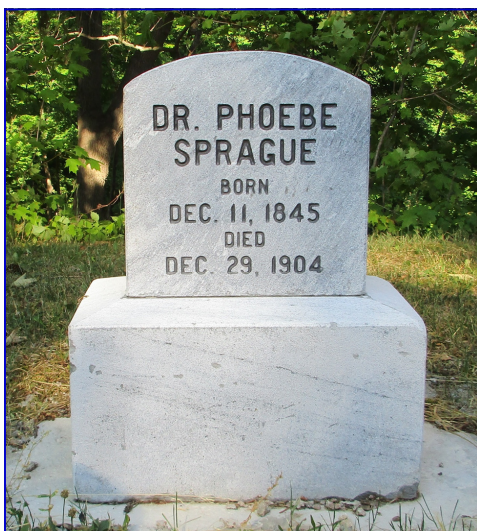

Phoebe Sprague, MD
(1846-1904) was born in Holley on December 11, 1846. Her parents were Danly and Eunice Sprague.

Their home site on Geddes Street has been designated with an historical plaque. The last owner of her home was Edna McCrillis Weed. It was dismantled to make room for Merrill's parking lot.

Miss Sprague attended the Holley Academy and the Brockport Collegiate Institute. Her medical training took her to Chicago's Women's Medical College. After moving to Springfield Mass., Dr. Sprague was recognized for her skill and dedication. While there, she devoted her time and talent as an obstetrician at the Home for Friendless Women. Due to poor health, she returned to her home in Holley. She continued to serve as a board member for the House of Refuge for Women of New York State in Albion, and remained active in her various medical societies and the Rebekah Lodge. She founded the Holley Chapter and served as Worthy Matron. The local chapter was named in her honor. After attending the Holley Academy's first reunion in June 1904, Dr. Sprague died on November 28, 1904 at the age of fifty-seven, two weeks before her fifty-eighth birthday. The stones in the Danly Sprague family's Hillside plot indicate some who are buried there, but didn't indicate Dr. Phoebe Sprague. In 2015, a member of the Clarendon Historical Society had a memorial placed there to honor this outstanding female physician, a native of Holley.

Roy Bubb's latest book, The Family Scrapbook: An Era in Holley's History will cover more detail. Anticipated publishing date is Spring 2017.

The Clarendon Lions Club has had another successful year in 2016, helping folks in our community.

We raised funds through our selling of hot dogs, hamburgers, cheeseburgers, Italian Sausage, soda, ice cream and water at local events, along with our raffles and Geranium Sales . The funds raised at these events, are given back to the Community through donations to local charities and emergency situations.

These charities include scholarships through Holley Central School, purchase of Beep Balls for blind children baseball, Hospice of Orleans County, Orleans Habitat for Humanity, Canine Helpers, Veterans of Western New York Camp, Batavia School for the Blind, Tennis Program for Special Needs Children and many others. In addition, we sponsor the Easter, Halloween, and Christmas Party's for children at the Holley Community Center and assist in Bingo for the residents at the Veterans Hospital in Batavia.

If you would like to join these hard working folks, please contact Lion Tom Persia at 638 - 5750. Thank you for your support.

"Show Stopper" Articulated Cub Cadet

John Lusk of Clarendon, N.Y., would love to build a full-size articulated tractor, but he doesn't have enough shop space. So he built a small one using a couple of the old Cub Cadet Garden tractors he had collected. Apparently he did a good job because when he took it to an area tractor show a man asked him, "When did International make those?" The retired machinist says articulated vehicles have always fascinated him, and when he dug into the project he thought it would take a month. It ended up taking about 2 1/2 months, with much of the time spent looking for parts he needed. Lusk started with 1969 and 1980 Cub Cadets that he'd purchased for about $200 total. He cut off the front end of one to make a new rear end. "All the cross members of the tractor had to be cut out and moved," Lusk says. "The front wheels were set ahead 15 in., so the front end didn't look like it was hanging too far over." It was trial and error to figure out how far he could make it swivel without the wheels touching and how to get the power to the rear end. Lusk made wooden prototypes of knuckles and hinges before making what he needed out of metal. "The hardest part to figure out was how to keep the rear fenders low to the tires yet still have side-to-side swivel," Lusk says. He solved the problem by making the back fenders and hood raise with the tires, when the tires go over a hump. Lusk's final result is a 12 hp articulating Cub Cadet with two 3-speed transmissions and two creeper gears, which help him win "slow" competitions at shows. It also has electric-over-hydraulic steering (electric motor driving a hydraulic pump). With the gears, big tires, other new parts and the $200 for the old Cadets, Lusk spent $1,400 on his creation. It can be driven in front-wheel drive, rear-wheel drive or all-wheel drive. Lusk is willing to advise Farm Show readers interested in making their own articulated vehicles. Photo: Lusk's granddaughter, Rachel, tests the electric-over-hydraulic steering on Lusk's articulating Cub Cadet.

Holley Hawks, Dylan Hillabush Signs Letter of Intent to Pitch for Division 1 Niagara University

Holley high school senior Dylan Hillabush has signed with Niagara University to play Division I Baseball next year. He will be receiving a full scholarship. After many years of hard work and dedication to developing his baseball skills, Dylan is one of the top pitchers in Section V. As a left-handed pitcher, he has a great pickoff move to first, and throws in the upper- 80s. He had 78 strikeouts last year and a .855 ERA as a junior for the Hawks. Dylan was recognized as a Genesee Region League all-star and as "King of the Hill" by Batavia's Best, an online sports magazine. In keeping with the high standards of a Holley Scholar Athlete, Dylan is also a member of the National Honor Society. Along with his outstanding high school career, Dylan has pitched for several non-scholastic teams including Valle Sports and the Rochester Collegiate Prospects League. Dylan was awarded pitcher of the year for his performance in the Prospects League.

Looking onward toward his collegiate career, Dylan continues to rely on his family support structure. Mother and Father Diann and Ray Hillabush, Grandparents Cecil and Mary Lou Moore of Clarendon, and Grandmother Doris Hillabush of Elba along with his brother Craig Hillabush. They are all very proud of the young man Dylan has become.

HOLLEY SENIOR COLLIN PAPAJ WINS FOOTBALL HONORS

Holley senior Collin Papaj was recently honored with receiving a Silver Award Scholarship from the National Football Foundation. Out of the 30 senior football players that were invited to the National Football Foundation Scholarship Awards Banquet at Burgundy Basin on Dec. 12, he was one of eight to receive the Silver Award Scholarship. He also received a plaque and shirt. His name will be put in the College Football Hall of Fame as a National Football Foundation Scholar Athlete. Collin was one of many football players in Section V to apply for this scholarship, which was awarded based on performance in the classroom and on the field.

Collin has only played football for three years for Holley Middle School/High School, but he has worked hard during his short stint. He has 117 carries for 850 yards, 7.2 yards per carry, and 7 touchdowns, with his longest touchdown run recorded at 83 yards. He was also selected to the Genesee Region League All-Star First Team.

"Collin deserves all the recognition he can get," said Varsity Football Coach Wil Prince. "He is a great kid and very hardworking." Congratulations, Collin!

Students Joel Moore, Jake Peters, Jeremy Crandall, Elijah Stanton, Erik Balys, Zach Vanameron, Matt Skehan, Ethan Bibby, Garrett Farrow, Amanda Valerio and teacher Tim Rogers.

Students in Russ Albright's and Tim Rogers' Geometry in Construction class at Holley Middle School/High School (MS/HS) are busy honing their math and construction skills this winter. They recently used the concept of slope and different formulas to determine how to design sets of stairs to meet overall height requirements. Then, they used their construction skills to build the stairs.
