MARTIN LUTHER KING JR.'S BIRTHDAY

My name is Jennifer and I currently run a Yoga class for people with Cancer, or who have recovered from Cancer, and a Yoga Class for people with Multiple Sclerosis. My sister passed away 2 years ago from Cancer, and since then, I decided to become certified to teach Yoga. I have been practicing physical therapy for 16 years, in which time, I have had the opportunity to treat many ailments. This allows me to easily adapt Yoga poses for those that may be struggling with a particular pose. I will also be starting up a Mommy and Me Yoga class for children. This class will work on Yoga poses for children, but will also adapt poses for children with Sensory issues and Autism. I would like your feedback on a day and time that would be convenient for those interested in a Mommy and Me class. Please also let me know if anyone is interested in joining my Cancer or Multiple Sclerosis Yoga Classes. I can be reached at 259-2001. These classes currently run at the Brockport Senior Center. Namaste my Friends,

HILL TALK

Those Domsayers Are Just Domsayers!

I am writing this just a few hours before the end of the world! At least that's what the Mayans have predicted! We sure get a lot of those predictions don't we? We wait for Yellowstone to erupt, for a comet or meteor impact, or the giant solar flare to hit and wipe out our technologies! Yep, Mr. TV keeps us well informed about those horrible endings to our lives, right? Of course, any of those things could happen at any time but they probably won't.

Still feeling the grief and shock of the Connecticut tragedy, I also received the news that a beloved aunt passed and that a good friend was losing his fight with cancer. If I said at that moment that I saw a bright and beautiful future ahead of us I would have been lying. The negative things in life seemed a lot easier to believe. My faith seemed a fragile and tenuous entity that resided somewhere deep inside me.

The news about my aunt came just an hour or so before my wife and myself traveled to attend a very special Christmas Concert and an unbelievable concert it was! We listened to a very professional 64-member adult choir serenade us with songs of the season; a very large and very good young peoples choir did likewise. We were then treated to a special sextet of singers. All of this was interspersed with great piano players, clarinets, and of course, a solo with a harp! My feelings of impending doom began to dissipate rapidly but the "coup de grace" came when a very large but very, very young choir appeared and surprised me by singing as competently as the others. Amongst these tykes was a toddler, half the size of the others, barely to the walking stage! I thought at first she was placed there just to look cute but was amazed to hear her sing all of the words! She brought tears to many eyes.

Now, needless to say, I can see a future, a bright future when a group of young people has the will and desire to put on such a wonderful concert! How far did we travel to attend this event? Many residents of Clarendon would be surprised to find that this happened right here, on Hall Road at the "Old Paths Bible Baptist Church"! The concert was followed by a reception where we were served some of the best cookies of the season. Don't miss the next concert!

Now I must admit that my personal theology might differ somewhat from theirs, but these people and the happy children around them deserve the respect of all of us. We should be very proud that our little community has such an outstanding resource in our "back-yard"!

So, they helped me to believe that those doomsayers are just doomsayers!

HOLLEY STAFF WORKS TO MAKE HOLIDAYS BRIGHTER FOR FAMILIES IN NEED

For the past 10 years, the staff at Holley Central School District has been donating holiday gifts to children in the district. The Giving Tree is a school-wide effort to provide for those less fortunate right in the Holley community. Each Christmas, the Holley Teachers' Association (HTA) Public Relations Committee works with the Eastern Orleans Community Center to identify 55 children in need. "Although the PR Committee organizes the event, there are many people who participate, including aides, secretaries, cafeteria staff, and administrators," said Karin Richards, the fifth-grade teacher who helps organize the donation every year. "This is a school-wide effort and the generosity of those involved is greatly appreciated." Shown here are Holley teachers (l-r) Tricia Draper, Karin Richards, Chris Langelotti, and Sue Thornton.

TID BITS

Geary (Moose) Shenck

GREETINGS EVERYONE. I hope you all had the very best holiday season ever and may the year ahead be the greatest one ever. Wouldn't it be great if the wars could end and no more terrible, wild killings of the innocents? Maybe we all have to pray a little harder and a lot more.

When I'm in the naughty corner, I don't spend my time thinking about what I've done wrong. I plan how to do it the next time without getting caught. Insanity doesn't run in my family. It strolls through, taking time to get to know each of us personally. A neighbor asked my wife if she could borrow her vacuum cleaner. My wife said "Sure, as long as you don't take it out of my house!" Old accounts never die ~ they just lose their balance. Old bankers never die ~ they just lose interest. Old lawyers never die ~ they just lose their appeal. Old cashiers never die ~ they just check out. Finally, Old janitors never die ~ they just kick the bucket.

A man told his wife he needed more space so she locked him outside. I have a question for all those states that don't allow games of chance. What do you call voting machines? Someone once said: Going to a party with your wife is like going fishing with the game warden. A mother rabbit to her child: A magician pulled you out of a hat. Now stop asking questions! Gold cannot be pure and people cannot be perfect. Even the best needles are not sharp at both ends.

Some inspirations: A woman is like a tea bag. You never know how strong she is until she gets in hot water. Learn from the mistakes of others. You can't live long enough to make them all yourself. Old minds are like old horses. You must exercise them if you wish to keep them in working order.

A man asks his friend for a cigarette. His friend says, "I think you made a New Year's Resolution to quit smoking." The man says, "I am in the process of quitting. Right now, I am in the middle of phase one." "What is phase one?" "I've quit buying."

THIS MONTH'S RIDDLES:

1. What is always behind time?
2. Why did little Miss Muffet need a road map?
3. What tastes better before it's cooked?
4. How do you scrape the ice off tall buildings?
5. Why don't centipedes play football?

Age is a very high price to pay for maturity. My idea of housework is to sweep the room with a glance. Artificial intelligence is no match for natural stupidity. It is easier to get forgiveness from parents than permission. Your future depends on your dreams, so go to sleep. Hard work never killed anyone, but why take the chance. Never put off until tomorrow what you can get someone else to do today. My wife asked me if she looked fat in her new dress. Pointing to what I was wearing, I replied, "Do I look stupid in this shirt?!" The garage called a man to say the car he took in to be serviced was ready. "Great" he said. "The wife is in the bathroom getting beautiful and we'll be over as soon as she's finished." The voice on the other end asked, "Will that be today?"

Hank Aaron, former baseball great said it took him seventeen years to get three thousand hits in baseball and he did it in one afternoon on the golf course.

Directions: On a bar of Dial soap: Use like regular soap. On Tesco's Tiramisu dessert: Printed on the bottom: Do not turn upside down. (Duh, a bit late warning!) On some Swanson frozen dinners: Serving Suggestion: Defrost.

A family vacation is one where you arrive with five bags, four kids and seven "I thought you packed its." Expert: A person who may not know all the answers, but is sure he could get them with the proper funding. A boxer is taking a beating when the bell rings. As he staggers to his corner, his coach whispers "Let him hit you with his left. Your face is crooked." Some people don't like watching the Olympics. They say it's like watching gym. On a wedding invitation: If you don't RSVP, bring a chair and a sandwich. A woman got pulled over for making an "S" turn. She started to make a "U", and then changed her mind. A woman entered her husband's office unannounced and unexpectedly, and found his secretary sitting on his lap. "Don't get excited" warned the husband sensing trouble. "I didn't want to tell you that business is so bad, I'm studying how to become a ventriloquist." A man entered his living room and discovered a moron type guy proposing to his daughter. "Hey, listen you" shouted the irate father threateningly. "I'll teach you to mess with my daughter." "I wish you would" replied the moron. "I'm not making much headway on my own." An excited woman phoned the police station. "Will you please send an officer immediately?" she pleaded. "There's a bad salesman sitting in a tree, teasing my dog." A schoolteacher was pointing out the difference between right and wrong to her little pupils, stressing the wickedness of stealing. She tried to illustrate her point. "Now children" she said, "if I put my hand in a man's coat pocket and took all of his money, what would I be?" "You'd be a wife" shouted a youngster. "Papa, there's a limerick contest in the newspaper" said a little boy to his father. "I can win a hundred dollars if I guess the last words. Will you help me out?" "Get your mother to do it" suggested his father. "She's better at last words than I am."

A group of Perkin, Illinois bikers were riding west on I-74 when they saw a girl about to jump off the Murray Baker Bridge. So they stopped. George, their leader, a big burly man of 53, got off his Harley, walked through a group of gawkers, past the state trooper and said, "What are you doing?" She said, "I'm going to commit suicide." While he didn't want to appear "sensitive", he didn't want to miss a be-a-legend opportunity either so he asked, "Well, before you jump, why don't you give me a kiss?" So, with no hesitation at all, she leaned back over the railing and did just that and it was a long, deep, lingering kiss followed immediately by another one. After they finished, George got approval from his biker-buddies, the onlookers and even the state trooper. He said, "Wow! That was the best kiss I have ever had Honey! That's a real talent you're wasting Sugar Shorts. You could be famous if you rode with me. Why are you committing suicide?" "My parents don't like me dressing up like a girl." It's still unclear whether she jumped or was pushed.

Teacher: What does the word trickle mean? Greg: To run slowly. Teacher: Right. And what does the word anecdote mean? Greg: A short funny tale. Teacher: Right again. Now, can you give me a sentence with both of those words in it? Greg: Uh, our dog trickled down the street wagging his anecdote. There's a wise old saying ~ Christmas is a holiday when neither the past nor the future is as interesting as the present.

The following is written by Connie J. Kirby:

In the small hours of the morning
When it's darkest before the dawn,
When you think the light will never come
And your faith is almost gone,
There is one there right beside you
To help you see your way.
He's with you in the darkest hours
As well as the light of day.
His light will never fail to guide
Nor ever fade or dim.
He'll lead you to his loving arms
And keep you safe with Him.

That's all for now. Have a great month.

Adios & God Bless,
Geary Moose Shenck
