The call to action for all Lion's Clubs this year was to plant a tree to meet the International Presidents goal of 1 million trees. The Clarendon Lions Club president Tom Persia contacted the Clarendon Historical Society President to arrange a small gathering to plant a beautiful weeping cherry tree on the grounds of the historical society. The tree was donated on behalf of the Lions Club and the day it was planted is a testament to the commitment of both organizations.

A very cold rainy almost wintery Monday in May served as the back drop for the planting. The dedication of both of these groups to the Clarendon Community and beyond is very evident. They reach out and touch people's lives and make many very generous donations. These organizations serve as examples to our younger generation on how even small gestures can make a difference and bring people together.

See you soon.

HILL TALK

SO, WHAT'S WITH ALL THESE FANCY LAWNS?

Sometime in the future they are going to really wonder about our lawns; these beautiful carpets of grass surrounding our homes. They will wonder why someone would spend so much time and money on these little plots of land; land that will never produce even one item that we can eat! The only edible plants that grow well on them are dandelions and most of us get rid of them just as fast as we possibly can!

Years in the past, lawns were kept trimmed by flocks of geese or some sheep grazing on the grass. At least back then we would be producing something edible and usable on that land. Now we spend an enormous amount of money on lawn tractors, fertilizer, seeds and weed killers, and get nothing in return except that we think it looks nice.

Quite a lot of snobbishness revolves around our lawns and they become a very visual main focus of "keeping up with the Joneses". Think not? What man in a new John Deere tractor doesn't sit a little taller in the "saddle" as he looks down on a neighbor with a chain store model? Who doesn't feel a little twinge of inadequacy when our neighbor's lawn is more lush, better groomed, and greener than ours?

I must admit that I also fall into the lawn awareness bit in that I like a nice neat lawn. I don't use weed killer on it because I worry about my bird friends. Also, I've always loved the bright yellow dandelion blooms amongst the grass. These plants never used to be a problem as I could always keep ahead of them. Now however, they have begun to understand what a lawn mower is and what it does! Instead of standing there like a true soldier as the mower approaches, they hunker down low until I pass and then spring up overnight ruining my nice neat lawn!

I also have an efficiency problem when I mow. I've mowed lawns for many years so I know how to cut my lawn correctly and quickly but things keep getting in the way! Why do I have to stop to move every little toad out of the way of my monstrous cutting machine and waste time dodging crickets, bees, and grasshoppers? Have I gotten too soft for this he-man job?

When I'm on my tractor I feel like I'm running a truly impressive piece of equipment. Man, what power I hold! Give me a plow and I could move mountains with this thing! At last in this crazy world I have something tangible to hold on to that I control 100%! It's a very visual example of "delusions of grandeur" because the spell gets broken when I see another person on a similar machine. It looks like they are riding on a baby go-cart!

Finally, a lawn is a large expense and a lot of work. Most of it we never even walk on, sit on, or even touch until it's time to mow.

So, what's with all these fancy lawns?

CLARENDON STONE STORE PLACED ON NATIONAL REGISTER OF HISTORIC PLACES

On May 9, 2012, the National Park Service awarded our Stone Store the honor of placing it on the National Register of Historic Places. It had previously been placed on the New York State Register of Historic Places. These registers are the official lists of buildings, structures, districts, objects, and sites significant in the history, architecture, archeology, engineering, and culture of New York and the nation. The same eligibility criteria are used for both the State and National Registers. These places are deemed to be significant in our history and worthy of preservation.

It is quite an honor to be placed on the Registers and it isn't easy. It requires a great deal of documentation and the nominated property must meet strict criteria. In addition to having historical significance, it must possess integrity of location, design, setting, materials, workmanship, feeling and association.

Orleans County now has 20 places listed on the National Register. The Stone Store is only the second to be listed in the Town of Clarendon. Contrary to a popular belief, being listed on the registers places no restrictions on private owners of registered properties. Private property owners may sell, alter or dispose of their property as they wish. Some localities have local laws which may place restrictions, but this is not true in Clarendon.

The next time you drive through the hamlet, take a moment to reflect on the history of our town and our ancestors who built a building that has survived 176 years and still manages to impress both the New York State Office of Parks, Recreation and Historic Preservation and the National Park Service. We should be proud.

The Town is now accepting proposals for redevelopment of the Stone Store and will sell the property to the person with the best plan for $1. State and federal tax credits can be available for up to 40% of rehabilitation costs. We look forward to the Stone Store once again being a contributing asset to our community.

HOSPICE RECOGNIZES COMMUNITY SUPPORT

At the April Hospice of Orleans annual general meeting and volunteer luncheon, two special awards were presented. The 2012 Mary Janet Sahukar Award was presented to Bonnie Heck for a piano recital that she organized with many of her students participating. When Bonnie's mother was a hospice patient, she witnessed all of the extra personal items that staff provided on a regular basis and decided that she would like to hold a benefit for Hospice. While participation was optional, every student was involved and in doing so learned more about the value of giving back to their community.

Environmental Construction Group was awarded the 2012 Business/Civic Award for facilitating unlimited parking to Hospice staff and contractors during the construction of the Martin-Linsin Residence. Despite the need for unfettered vehicle access for his own company, Robert Gibbs did not hesitate to make this available for the duration of the construction. "Parking was one of the major concerns" stated Cora Goyette, development director "and it is inconceivable to imagine how we may have overcome this huge hurdle without their support".

To Bonnie Heck and Robert Gibbs we thank you for helping to make a difference in the lives of those we serve.

EAGLE SCOUT

Through effort, time and diligence Clarendon resident Zachary Clark of Boy Scout Troop #59-Iroquois Trail Council-was found worthy of the Eagle Scout Rank by the Review Board on May 10th of this year. Zachary's Court of Honor is scheduled to be held June 16, 2012 at the Disciples United Methodist Church in Clarendon. Zac's Eagle Project was to design and build the church a storage unit, refinish the picnic tables and clean out the fire pit at the Disciples United Methodist Church. We are very fortunate to have aspired youth who excel in the scouting program and give to the Community.

HOLLEY FOURTH GRADERS REVISIT AMERICAN PIONEER DAYS

Fourth graders at Holley Elementary recently took a trip back in time to American pioneer days. The event encouraged students and faculty to strap on their bonnets, boots, and best pair of suspenders as they traveled west to learn about early America.

Several stations were set up throughout the school's fourth grade wing to teach students how Americans lived in the days of westward expansion. The activities included quill and ink writing, Native American games, making and playing marbles, cross stitching, weaving dream catchers, and candle dipping. Students were challenged by the various daily tasks as pioneer living was brought to the 21st century.

After visiting all the stations, students gathered for storytelling by "Erie Canal Sal" played by Gretchen Murray Sepik from Young Audiences of Rochester. Based, in part, on Old Black Nel, a cook on the Erie Canal, Sal talked of life on the canal and told Irish folk tales from the Erie Canal. The students participated as passengers on a packet boat in the year 1840.

Holley fourth graders Joseph Franzese (left) and Colin Buesing play a game of marbles after creating their own clay marbles. The activity was part of Pioneer Day for all fourth graders.

HOLLEY SENIORS ENJOY SEVENTH ANNUAL APPRECIATION BREAKFAST

The Holley School District hosted its Seventh Annual Senior Citizen Appreciation Breakfast to thank the district's seniors for their support over the years and to honor Older Americans Month observed in May. The event continues to grow every year that it's held. This year over 125 senior citizens enjoyed a buffet breakfast provided by Personal Touch, the district's food service company. Personal Touch generously funded the total cost of the food so that it would not require any school district funding in this challenging budget year.

Participants then watched performances by the senior high and elementary choruses, and the kindergarten class. They also took home centerpieces and placemats made by the students, and long-stemmed roses. The event is an opportunity for seniors to enjoy a delicious breakfast, see students perform, and visit with old friends. The Middle School/High School Student Council volunteers their time to help set up, serve, and clean up after the breakfast.

Seniors could also have their blood pressure checked, sign up for a Gold Card that gives them free admission to school events, and pick up information about the Orleans County Office of the Aging and The Whole Approach senior fitness classes. Next year's breakfast will be held Thursday, May 2. For more photos, visit www.holleycsd.org.

Geary (Moose) Shenck

GREETINGS TO YOU ALL. Another month has passed so I guess it's time for another article of intelligent words of wisdom! How does one of those signs reading "Please Keep Off the Grass" get there? A politician's clarification is often more difficult to understand than his original statement. A traffic light is a signal that will always change from green to red as your automobile comes toward it. If you make a mistake and don't remedy it, that's another one. "Look Honey" an excited woman exclaimed to her husband one day in the early spring. "The first of the garden tools are beginning to peek their heads up out of the snow!" One man in line to mail his income tax in had an unexpected upbeat attitude about it. He told the person next to him, "I see it as having the entire government on my payroll!" Golf is the single pursuit at which you find yourself considered worse and worse the more above par you become. It is easy to identify the best people. They will help you do it. Mark Twain wrote: You can't depend on your eyes when your imagination is out of focus. The girl who loves and loses probably didn't have the right lawyer. A diplomat is someone who can butter you up without letting you see the point on the knife. The nearest thing to immortality on earth is a government bureau. Don: This is a nice place, but the landlord asks too much for the rent. Tom: Really? Don: Yes. Last week he asked for it four times. What you don't know may not hurt you, but it will certainly amuse a lot of people. A preacher said to a precocious six year-old boy, "So, your mother says your prayers for you each night? That's very commendable. What does she say? The little boy replied, "Thank God he's in bed." One lady was heard to say, "I'll tell you how good my son the doctor is. After one year of practice, in three weeks he cured that rich Mrs. Smith of two thousand dollars." He wrecked his car, he lost his job and yet, throughout his life he took his troubles like a man. He blamed them on his wife! by Herb Ellafson: Twas in a restaurant they met - Brave Romeo and Juliet. He had no cash to pay his debt, So Rome o'd what Juliet.

THIS MONTH'S RIDDLES:

1. What is "out of bounds"?
2. What is an octopus?
3. When is it a good thing to lose your temper?
4. What coin doubles in value when half is deducted?
5. Why is a joke like a coconut?

The preacher's five year old daughter noticed that her father always paused and bowed his head for a moment before starting his sermon. One day, she asked him why. "Well Honey" he began proud that his daughter was so observant of his messages, "I'm asking the Lord to help me preach a good sermon." "I sure wish he would answer your prayers." she said. Trouble: The trouble with trouble is that it starts out as fun. Diplomacy: The ability to tell someone to go to blazes in such a way that they actually look forward to the trip. I told my wife that a husband is like a fine wine. He gets better with age. The next day she locked me in the cellar. Unless your name is Google, stop acting as if you know everything. A jealous woman does better research than the FBI. Wine, now cheaper than gas. Drink, don't drive! Little Johnny and his family were having Sunday dinner at his grandmother's house. They were all seated around the table as the food was being served. When little Johnny received his plate, he started eating right away. "Johnny, please wait until we say our prayers" said his mother. "I don't need to" the boy replied. "Of course you do" his mother insisted, "we always say a prayer before eating at home." "That's at home" Johnny explained, "but this is at Grandma's house and she knows how to cook." A woman was wearing a new locket. A friend asked her "if there is a memento of some sort inside". "Yes" she said, "a lock of my husband's hair." "But, your husband is still alive" said the friend. "I know, but his hair is gone."

A guy calls 911: "I'm having trouble breathing. I'm all out of breath. I think I'm going to pass out. Dispatcher: Sir, where are you calling from: Caller: I'm at a pay phone North and Foster. Dispatcher: Sir, an ambulance is on the way. What were you doing before you started having trouble breathing?" Caller: "Running from the police."

How come parents have to approve of boy friends when they're not the ones who go out with them? Don't call yourself an expert. An ex is a has-been and a spurt is a drip under pressure. The trouble with opportunity is that it only knocks, while temptation kicks the door in. A pedestrian is a man who thought there were a couple of gallons left in the tank. A conscience is like a baby. It has to go to sleep before you can.

From Can You Top This: One day a wife overheard her husband phoning his office. "Yes Toots, don't worry, Toots" he said. "Everything will be alright Toots. Yes Toots, okay Toots, alright Toots, good bye Toots." After he hung up his wife sauntered into the room. "What goes on?" she asked. "I was calling the office" he explained. "After all these years, you're suddenly calling stenographer Molly, Toots?" she asked frigidly. "No" informed her husband. "I say Toots for short. Molly is on her vacation. This is her sub-Toot." A man and his wife got into one of those knock-down drag-out arguments. "You brute" she cried. "Before we were married you told me you were well off." "I was" he snapped, "but I didn't know it!" In court, a Judge took up the questioning of a defendant. "I understand that your wife is scared to death of you?" he said. "That's right Your Honor" admitted the defendant. The Judge leaned over and whispered in his ear "as man to man" he said, "how do you do it?" "Greg, how did your mother know you hadn't washed your face?" Greg: "I forgot to wet the soap!" Yet another bad school report was received by an irate father. "Tommy, I'm not at all pleased with your report this term" he said furiously. "I told the teacher you wouldn't be" said Tommy, "but he insisted on sending it just the same." Anyone who goes to a psychiatrist ought to have his head examined. I've learned that if you want to know who's the boss in a family, just check to see who holds the remote control! Did you hear about the man who went to the doctor to complain that he felt like a deck of cards? The doctor said, "Sit down and I'll deal with you later." Then there was the Canary who ate beans because he wanted to become a Thunder Bird.

From Grace E. Easley

Don't worry; your life is in His hands
He knows and He loves and He understands.
So what if you stumble now and then,
He always picks you up again.
Don't sigh and fret and spoil the day
Nobody always gets his way.
Think of your blessings, Heaven knows
Folks have a way of forgetting those.
Don't squander years that you could fill
With such tremendous worth until
One by one the chances pass
Like sand within an hour glass.
Don't worry and wish and plot and plan
Remember, the Mighty Oak began
From nothing more than one small seed
And God is aware of what you need.

Well Folks, that's all the Pearls of Wisdom that I'll pass along this month. Hope everyone has a great summer.

Adios and God Bless

CLARENDON TOWN BOARD MEETING HIGHLIGHTS

May 2012

The May meeting was well attended. Supervisor Moy opened the meeting for public comment during Open End, informing that each person wishing to speak about any topic, will be given five minutes to address the board. Attorney David Schubel gave explanation in that the Planning Board is created by the Town Board. By Law, the Town is required to have a Zoning Board; it is permissive to have a Planning Board, delegated according to Town Zoning or a Local Law. The Town Board still has a bit of discretion to abolish the board or remove any member for cause after holding a public hearing. The Zoning Ordinance or local law spells out the functions of the Planning Board, where as the Zoning Board of Appeals is created by New York State statute. Supervisor Moy informed that he has met with some of the people present and has been asked that the Town Board intervene in the Planning Board's review/decision of a recent application for special permit to have a multi-unit storage facility in their neighborhood. It was explained that if the Town Board thought Planning Board actions to be illegal or inappropriate, the Town Board could over-ride a decision, but that the Town Board can not influence the Planning Board during the process. It was reviewed that the Planning Board advises with counsel on matters.

Several citizens addressed the board, expressing opposition to allowing said business in the proposed area. It was confirmed that this application is an allowable use in the zoning district, so the Planning Board has to consider the request and do the review. Citizens spoke with concern over the Short Environmental Quality Review that had been completed and felt it was not truthful or complete. It was confirmed that it is the Town that completes the SEQR, not the applicant. Supervisor Moy informed that after review, the Planning Board has sixty-two (62) days to make a decision. Citizens complained about not being able to completely state their thoughts on the matter at the Planning Board public hearing. Supervisor stated that a public hearing is for opinions in favor of or in opposition to said issue – not to debate it. Citizens felt this proposed business would go against the Master Plan resident survey conducted by the Town a couple years ago.

The nine conditions listed in the Zoning Ordinance - Article X; Section 1004 were pointed out. Residents requested that the Town Board review the Special Permit uses allowed in the different zoning areas. Workshop meetings for such review were scheduled.

HIGHWAY/WATER DEPARTMENT REPORT

Larry P. Swanger, Superintendent

Superintendent Swanger reported plowing once on April 23rd; the winter equipment has been painted and stored for the summer. The Highway Crew provided dust control on Wood Road, picked up three pick-up truck loads of tires and readied equipment for roadside mowing. Ditching has been done on Countyline and Taylor Roads. The jointly owned 2000 roller purchased for $9000 was sold at auction for $3750; 1/3 revenue belongs to Clarendon. One grave was dug at Hillside Cemetery this past month. The water sampling station at Bennetts Corners and Jackson Roads has been replaced. Superintendent Swanger reported the WIBA 10 contractor has been in town doing restoration and planned to ask the town for a time extension for completion. Supervisor will call Chatfield Engineers. The restoration crew is different from the construction crew.

Superintendent Swanger will attend the Water Operator Conference in Syracuse next week at the Turning Stone. The electronic recycling pick-up went well; 12 pallets were filled. Councilman Robinson, Superintendent Swanger, Highway worker Tracy Smith and OIO Melissa Ierlan were thanked for their assistance. Superintendent reported picking up 10 to 12 televisions along roadside. People have been dumping them along the roadsides since the garbage company no longer accepts them.
