CLARENDON HISTORICAL SOCIETY NEWS

From the President's Desk

Well, Spring is in the air! Grass is green and the birds are back from the sunny south. Blue Birds are back from the sunny south. Bluebirds, once more abundant than now, became an issue. The Society decided to put out some bird houses and see if we could get some Bluebirds to nest. Historian Melissa Ierlan contacted Scout leader John Crandall. His group made the houses. Stockham Lumber Co. cut and supplied the materials. Thanks to you all! The boxes are up and now it's wait and see.

In June, Melissa has arranged for school field trips here at the museum and we look forward to that. It's always a pleasure to have our young ones visit.

HOSPICE OF ORLEANS 2010 - 2011 HONOREES

At their recent Annual General Meeting, Hospice Staff recognized the extraordinary contribution of volunteers, community members and local organizations with a celebratory luncheon. 139 volunteers were recognized for their outstanding commitment to the services of Hospice. Combined, they contributed almost 3,000 hours during 2010, providing assistance with patient care and respite for their families, office support, maintenance and garden upkeep, cookie baking and special events.

In presenting the Volunteers of the Year Award to Ike and Chris Burr, volunteer coordinator Chris Fancher remarked "this husband and wife team exemplifies what volunteerism is all about".

The Business/Civic Award was presented to the Albion Chapter of the St. Vincent DePaul Society, which was accepted by Carl and Pat Sargent. "The relationship between our two agencies is truly collaborative and whatever equipment is needed in the community, one of us is always able to provide. It is a testament to what can be achieved when community works together" noted Mary Anne Fischer, Executive Director

The Mary Janet Sahukar Award was presented to Eric and Margy Brown for their commitment and dedication to Hospice services. For 15 years, they have organized a 5K Race at Browns Berry Patch which has raised $24,213 since its inception. To all of our volunteers we offer our deepest thank you. We could not provide the services without you.

Employee: Excuse me sir, may I talk to you? Boss: Sure, come on in. What can I do for you? Employee: Well sir, as you know, I have been an employee of this prestigious firm for over ten years. Boss: Yes. Employee: I won't beat around the bush. Sir, I would like a raise. I currently have four companies after me and so I decided to talk to you first. Boss: A raise? I would love to give you a raise, but this is just not the right time. Employee: I understand your position, and I know that the current economic down turn has had a negative impact on sales, but you must also take into consideration my hard work, pro-activeness and loyalty to this company for over a decade. Boss: Taking into account these factors, and considering I don't want to start a brain drain, I'm willing to offer you a ten percent raise and an extra five days of vacation time. How does that sound? Employee: Great! It's a deal! Thank you, sir! Boss: Before you go, just out of curiosity, what companies were after you? Employee: Oh, the Electric Company, Gas Company, Water Company and the Mortgage Company!

HILL TALK

OH NO! IT'S FRANKENSTEIN!

Our family's "poor years" turned out to be the richest period of our lives and were always a large part of our reminiscing. We spent those pre world war years in a "shacky" little house near Garrison, New York at the height of the great depression. After we were settled we never went hungry due to a large garden, canning, and a very productive flock of chickens.

To say that I didn't have worries in those days is only partly true. I hadn't yet been to the movies and I didn't know anything about Frankenstein's Monster, but we had a real monster and his name was Frankenstein! I feared him enough to have nightmares about him. I don't think that the adults in my life ever realized just how big a problem he was to me and joked about my fear.

Our chickens were what are now called "free range" birds. They roamed freely and provided much of their food themselves. This was a blessing for us because they kept the insect population down and the area pretty free of that area's large population of timber rattlers and copperheads. Of course we had some chicken predators and when that started to become a big problem to us, my father obtained a very large Plymouth Rock rooster.

He was truly a giant among chickens and immediately took command of the flock. The other two roosters that we had before he came disappeared before they made it into the pot and we never knew what became of them. His aggressiveness earned him the name of Frankenstein even though he had no electrodes sticking out of his neck!

When I say he took over the flock it is no exaggeration! The hens were his, the chicken house was his, and most importantly, the eggs were his and he never failed to exercise his authority over each and every one! This was very important to me because my job was to gather the eggs that he wanted to protect.

No military combat patrol was planned in any more detail than my chore to collect the eggs. The daily "scratch" feed had to be distributed first because the chickens would hang around the barn until then. Afterwards, they would begin to wander out of range of the nesting boxes. I watched Frankenstein's progress until the coast was clear; then I would quietly sneak into the barn to collect the eggs.

This worked well until the day I entered the barn and saw that a hen still lingered in one of the boxes. She objected strenuously and loudly as I tried to sneak some eggs out from under her and then, oh no! Frankenstein entered the door and immediately attacked me. To my six year old body he was a giant. I tried to kick him away as I had seen my father do but each time he came back higher. When he got higher than my legs I turned and ran. He chased me along the garden fence until he reached where my younger sister was playing and he started pecking her!

My mother heard the commotion and chased him off with a broom; after which she grabbed the 22 and a few shots later, Frankenstein "bit the dust"! It was the only time ever that I enjoyed plucking a chicken! You've undoubtedly heard that "free range" chickens are delicious and I can attest that that is true; at least in his case! Oh no! It's Frankenstein!

HOLLEY'S ODYSSEY TEAM RECEIVES CREATIVITY AWARD

Holley Elementary School's Odyssey of the Mind team was commended for their creativity at the Regional Competition in Medina recently. They were presented with the Ranatra Fusca Creativity Award, given to teams or individuals who exhibit exceptional creativity, either through some aspect of their problem solution, or an extraordinary idea beyond the problem solution. The award is a way to acknowledge and encourage creative thinking and risk taking. (The Holley team took on the problem titled "As Good as Gold...berg." The spirit of the problem was to create and present an uncomplicated existing item that is used in a simple and effective way to complete a real life task. The team also created their own solution, a device made out of an unnecessarily complex series of components that performed the same task as the existing item – which in this team's case was a gumball machine. The performance included an inventor character and a marketing plan/sales pitch for its creation. (The Holley Division I team consisted of third graders Colin Buesing, Ruth Miller and Kohl Morgan; fourth graders Tyler Johnson and Abrianna Kruger; and fifth graders Matt DeSimone and Dalton Major. Their coach was Carm Miller.

TID BITS

Geary (Moose) Shenck

Hi Everyone: Well, another month has passed, so here we go again! Man, time has really changed since I was a kid. I was at the mall with my granddaughter the other day. We saw a man with a patch over his eye. My granddaughter said to me, "What is he trying to quit?" Twenty percent of this high school's seniors flunked the states graduation exam. Educators are still trying to calculate how many passed!

A man arrives home to find his wife lying on the floor in a pool of sweat. It's then that he notices that she's wearing a parka and an over-coat. "Are you okay? What are you doing?" he asks. "You've been promising to paint the living room for months now" she explained groggily. "I wanted to prove that I could do just as good a job as you and faster too" "Well, it does look like you did a good job" he says looking around, "but why are you all bundled up?" "I know how to read" she snaps. "The can said for best results put on two coats."

The gunslinger swaggered into the saloon. He looked to his left. "Everybody on this side of the room is a lily-livered, yellow-bellied coward" he shouted. He looked to his right, "Everybody on this side of the room is a flabby, dim-witted saddle tramp." No one dared challenge him. Satisfied, he was ordering his drink at the bar when he heard the sound of hurried footsteps. "Where do you think you're going?" He yelled at the little guy who'd stopped in his tracks. "Sorry" the man said. "I was on the wrong side of the room!"

It doesn't matter what temperature the room is, it's always room temperature. It is hard to understand how a cemetery raised its burial rates and blamed it on the cost of living! Some witticisms: 1. The last think I want to do is hurt you. But, it's still on the list. 2. If I agreed with you we'd both be wrong. 3. I used to be indecisive. Now I'm not sure. 4. Nostalgia isn't what it used to be. 5. The voices in my head may not be real, but they have some good ideas.

This Month's Riddles:

1. What is it when you feed it, it grows, when you give it water, it dies?
2. When is an apple like a book?
3. What ailment is the Oak Tree most subject to?
4. What is it that walks over the fields all day, and sits in the ice box at night?
5. What bird can lift the heaviest weight?

Never put off 'til tomorrow what you can do today. There may be a law against it by then.

Teacher: At your age, I could name all the presidents, and in order too. Pupil: Yes, but there were only three or four of them then!

From Greg Hanson: One afternoon a lawyer was riding in his limousine when he saw two men along the road-side eating grass. Disturbed, he ordered his driver to stop and he got out to investigate. He asked one man, "Why are you eating grass?" "We don't have any money for food" the poor man replied. "We have to eat grass." "Well then, you can come with me to my house and I'll feed you" the lawyer said. "but sir, I have a wife and two children with me. They are over there under that tree." "Bring them along" the lawyer replied. Turning to the other poor man he stated, "You come with us also." The second man, in a pitiful voice, then said, "but sir, I also have a wife and SIX children with me!" "Bring them all as well" the lawyer answered. They all entered the car which was no easy task, even for a car as large as the limousine was. Once underway, one of the poor fellows turned to the lawyer and said, "Sir, you are too kind. Thank you for taking all of us with you." The lawyer replied, "Glad to do it. You'll really love my place. The grass is almost a foot high!"

I didn't say your tie was too loud. I just asked if it had volume control. Patient: Doctor, I can't get my sleep at night. I keep having the same dream about a door with a sign. I push and push, but I can never get it open. Doctor: Tell me, what does the sign say? Patient: Pull.

Some Lawisms: - Law of Probability – The probability of being watched is directly proportional to the stupidity of your act. Law of Close Encounters – The probability of meeting someone you know increases dramatically when you are with someone you don't want to be seen with. Law of Logical Argument – Anything is possible if you don't know what you are talking about. Some kids' answers to religious questions:

The first commandment was when Eve told Adam to eat the apple. The seventh commandment is "thou shalt not admit adultery." Christians have only one spouse. This is called monotony.

When the road you're trudging seems all up hill*

When care is pressing you down a bit

Rest if you must, but don't you quit.

A "jiffy" is a unit of time from one fiftieth to one one-hundredth of a second. So, if you say "I'll be there in a jiffy", you'd better be fast on your feet! A dollar may not go as far as it used to, but what it lacks in distance, it makes up in speed. You can't take it with you they've told me for years and I've wisdom enough to perceive it. What's more from the way that it's going, I doubt that I'll even be able to leave it! Money talks, but it doesn't say when it's coming back. SIGN ON AN OFFICE BULLETIN BOARD: "In case of fire, don't panic. ## An Irish Blessing

By Grace E. Easley

May you live a long life
full of gladness and health
With a pocket of gold
as the least of your wealth.
May the dreams you hold dearest
be those which come true
The kindness you spread,
keep returning to you.
May the friendships you make
be those which endure
And all of your grey clouds
be small ones for sure.
And trusting in Him to whom we all pray
May a song fill your heart
every step of the way.

That's all for now folks.
Take Care and God Bless.

April 2011

CLARENDON HISTORICAL SOCIETY REPORT –

James Moore, President

President Moore thanked John Crandall and his Weblos for the nice job done building the Bluebird houses. They will be put up at the museum site in an effort to bring back some Bluebirds to the area. President Moore informed the Society will have its first meeting of the year tomorrow and will have more to report next month.

HIGHWAY/WATER DEPARTMENT REPORT –

Larry Swanger, Superintendent

Discussion was held about having someone remove the beavers; Supervisor stated the town needs to get a nuisance permit.

Discussion was held regarding the fence at the Hibbard Road Cemetery. It only extends across the front, the gate is gone and it is causing a problem when snow plowing. Councilman Campbell informed that the front section is all that's ever been there and requested the fence be left.

Pursuant to provisions of Section 284 of the Highway Law, the Town Board of the agreed that moneys levied and collected in the Town and received from the State for State Aid for repair and improvement of highways, in the sum of $297,910 as budgeted in account DA5110, shall be set aside to be expended for primary work and general repairs upon 44.06 miles of town highways, including sluices, culverts and bridges having a span of less than five feet and boardwalks or the renewals thereof.

HOSPICE OF ORLEANS

Lilac Bushes and a Wedding bring Spring to Hospice Spring is the time for lilacs and weddings, so when Anita Snyder and Zachary Miller decided to marry, they knew they wanted to make a difference for Hospice. The Snyder family has been touched by Hospice services and this would be Anita's way of giving back. Forgoing traditional wedding favors and choosing to make a donation to Hospice instead, each guest will receive a beautifully inscribed place card, attached to a special Hospice of Orleans silicone wrist band, in memory of loved ones. Their gifts to Hospice also include the donation of two special lilac bushes, grown and transplanted by Anita's father, Dale. "We are so very appreciative of all of the support that we receive, in so many ways" stated Cora Goyette. "The garden is such a beautiful creation and many people do not realize that its use is not restricted solely to Hospice. It is for the community to rest awhile and enjoy the tranquility the surroundings offer". Hospice extends warm congratulations to Anita and Zach and sincere gratitude to the Snyder family for these most meaningful gifts. Thank you!
