Bob Stirk, husband of the late Elaine Stirk, former Clarendon Assessor, visited the Historian in September. Bob & Elaine had purchased items from Herb Keople's Cheese Factory at an auction. Bob wanted these items to go back to the Town Historical Society. Items include a paddle used to mix the cheese in the large vats and the grooved iron rod in Historian Ierlan's right hand was used to test the cheese by poking the rod through the middle of the cheese, to bring out a long thin slice for tasting. Thanks much Bob.

KEOPLE CHEESE FACTORY

Hullberton Rd, Clarendon

Bob Barrett, resident of Two Mill Road, attended the September 20, 2016 Board Meeting and presented the Town with a map of Clarendon that he purchased from an antique shop. The map titles his home on Mill Road as owned by Adelaide Cook. Bob checked his abstract of title and found that Adelaide Cook owned his home on Mill Road from 1909 to 1927. Bob mounted the map in a glass fronted frame that he hand crafted of wood and rope. This is just one of the items Bob has enhanced and donated to the Town. It can be viewed at the Town Hall.

Bob, you're the King! Thanks.

Bob checked his abstract of title and found that Adelaide Cook owned his home on Mill Road from 1909 to 1927. Bob mounted the map in a glass fronted frame that he hand crafted of wood and rope. ### HIGHWAY/WATER REPORT – Larry P. Swanger, Superintendent

Superintendent Swanger reported helping the county and other towns with paving the past month. Blacktop was put down on Munger Road. The dirt portion of Chugg Road has been paved; will be sealed tomorrow. This leaves 4 ½ miles of gravel road in the town. Road patching has been done on Brown Schoolhouse Road.

In Water District No. 9 ext. 1, the crew has begun putting soil down for restoration; hydro seed will be added with the county machine when weather permits.

Residents at the meeting addressed Superintendent Swanger about the shoulders on Powerline Road. They felt that the shoulders have not been graded well and will create a mess for property owners in the spring from the plow. Superintendent stated that all roads that have been sealed this year will have the same problem; that every spring the highway crew comes through and cleans up everyone's yard. Discussion was held regarding trees on Hinds Road that residents felt were dangerous and in the town right-of-way. Evan Lusk has removed one of three trees being discussed. Superintendent Swanger will need to schedule use of the county bucket truck for the other two.

HISTORIAN REPORT – Melissa Ierlan, Historian/CHS President

Historian Ierlan reminded all of the program tomorrow at the Historical Society; speaker will be an attorney from Batavia; presentation is Clash of Cultures. October 8th is the rain date for the Ghost Walk at the Hillside Cemetery.

SUPERVISOR REPORT – Richard H. Moy, Supervisor

Next Tuesday, Clarendon is host of the Supervisors/Legislators meeting. Tom Kuryla, Commissioner of Orleans County Social Services Department will be the speaker. On November 14th, there will be a meeting in Point Breeze to discuss paving of the Ontario State Parkway. A resident has requested the 35 MPH speed limit in the hamlet be extended further east on Route 31A. Ron and Diane Whalin have submitted a letter reviewing their interest in having the public waterline extended south on Upper Holley Road. Eight other neighbors have also signed statements of the same; some of who have bad quality, low quantity and some who have completely lost water multiple times. The Town has received a rebate check in the amount of $593.68 for Water District No. 9 Build America Bonds. Rochester Rhinos will host a First Responders Night at their September 24th game.

CORRESPONDENCE

Orleans County Planning & Development has sent notice of availability of Large Format Scanning Service to the towns. Genesee Transportation Council has invited interested parties to a free one day training regarding Americans with Disabilities Act on September 27th in Rochester. The New York State Unified Court System has sent correspondence asking for the board to complete its annual court audit. Supervisor stated that the Town Clerk books should be audited by board members also. New York State Department of Transportation has announced availability of $98.7 million in funding to support transportation related projects and programs, including bicycle, pedestrian and multi-use paths and/or projects that will help meet requirements of the Clean Air Act by reducing congestion and vehicle emissions. There will be a ribbon cutting ceremony to mark the opening of the Orleans Business Center at the Arnold Gregory Building in Albion on September 23rd at 2:00 pm. PathStone Corporation sent notice of outreach for the Green Jobs Green NY program through the NYS Energy & Research Development Authority (NYSERDA). They help local families make energy efficiency improvements to their homes with access to low or no cost energy assessments, income based matching grants and low interest loans. The Orleans County Self-Insurance Plan apportionment of assessments has been received; Clarendon's Town assessment for 2017 is $33,681; the Fire Company assessment is $208. NYMIR will host a State Environment Quality Review (SEQR) Training for Small Communities on October 24 at the Livingston County Emergency Med Services in Mount Morris, NY. Town 2017 membership dues for the NYS Association of Towns will be $999.00.

OLD BUSINESS

The Town Board approved amending the Water District Rules & Regulations to include that meters for bulk water purchase need to be on the hydrant. Superintendent reviewed that two hydrants have been used; the one at the Fire Hall and one at the dead end on LaDue Road. Superintendent puts a meter on that includes a backflow preventer.

Matt DeSimone is working on the Town Park for an Eagle Scout Project. He has removed and painted picnic tables and painted the pavilion. Bruce Hovey has volunteered community service and has tarred and sealed the pavilion. The two grills have been cleaned and painted. Jessica Skehan has offered to paint a new sign for the pavilion. Board members in agreement to put a trash barrel in the park. Superintendent Swanger will put a 55 gallon drum there from the highway garage.

NEW BUSINESS

Discussion was held regarding a proposed contract with the county for Animal Control; cost would increase from $2766 to $8299. The Sheriff wants to add another officer. Board members spoke against the increase. Supervisor will speak with the Sheriff. If the board doesn't approve the increase, services from the county will only include those mandated by NYS Ag & Markets – unlicensed dogs. Action tabled.

The Board adopted a Resolution proclaiming October 16-22, 2016 as 'Freedom from Workplace Bullies Week'.

The Town Board agreed to designate Five Star Bank as its legal bank. First National Bank is becoming Key Bank; the Holley Branch is closing.

The Board accepted the Tentative Budget for the year 2017 and scheduled a public hearing for the Preliminary Budget to be held October 18, 2016 at 6:30 PM with the regular monthly meeting to immediately follow. (See front page of this Gazette for Notice)

TID BITS

Geary (Moose) Shenck

Greetings to everyone who has the stamina to continue reading. An officer asked a suspect, "Where were you between four and six?" He replied, "Kindergarten, why do you ask?" A man rushed into a busy doctor's office and shouted, "Doctor, I think I'm shrinking." The doctor calmly responded, "Now settle down, you'll just have to be a little patient." A long time tenant of a residential hotel could find nothing but a dog biscuit. He bit into it tentatively, liked it and the next morning told his wife to put in a large supply. The local restaurateur who was the source of supply observed "You don't need so many biscuits for a dog as small as yours." "They're for my husband," she explained. "These biscuits are strictly for dogs", grumbled the man. "They'll kill your husband." Six months later the wife admitted that her husband indeed was dead. "I told you those biscuits would kill him", reminded the man. "It wasn't the biscuits," said the wife. "He was killed chasing cars." Just remember, once you're over the hill you begin to pick up speed. A man boasted that he had the most understanding wife. When he got home from a hard day at work, she's put out my slippers, robe and lots of hot water. She knows I hate to do dishes in cold water. Two women were fussing about their husbands. "I do wish my Greg would stop biting his nails. It makes me upset." "Oh, my Tom used to do the same thing", the other woman said, "but I broke him of that habit real quick." "What did you do?" she was asked. "I hid his teeth." Some people remind me of old T.V. sets. You have to hit them a few times until they get the picture. A hang-over is just your body reminding you that you're an idiot. A smart person knows what to say. A wise person knows whether or not to say it. What did the teen tell his doctor upon waking up in the hospital during a thunderstorm? He thought he was safe from the lightening because he was grounded. To all those who wear a lot of make-up: Remember, it's a face, not a coloring book.

THIS MONTH'S RIDDLES:

1. Why are church bells the most obedient of inanimate objects?
2. Why is a kiss over the telephone like a straw hat?
3. Why didn't the woman let the doctor operate on her husband?
4. What traffic violation is common in baseball?
5. What do they call a mummies convention?

It was mealtime during an airline flight. "Would you like dinner?" the flight attendant asked Pete. "What are my choices?" Pete asked. "Yes or No" she replied. I've learned that regardless of color or age, we all need about the same amount of love. In politics, an absurdity is not a handicap. Some more 'old guys' comments: You've got something on your mind? Well, I'm glad to hear it, because there was me thinking the only time you ever had anything on your mind was when you wore a hat. The dentist told your mom she grinds her teeth at night, so now before we go to sleep, I fill her mouth with hot water and coffee beans and set the alarm for eight o'clock. Yes, I know it says you're the tenthousandth visitor to that site and that you've won a prize, but I wouldn't hand in your notice at work just yet. Why not? Try looking up the word quibble in the dictionary. How come this computer's so slow? I got more bytes than this the last time I went fishing. It was so crowded in that room that you couldn't holler at the cat without getting fur in your mouth. Is that a beard or are you eating a muskrat? There are worse things in life than death. If you've ever spent an evening with a salesman, you know what I mean. When a man has a birthday, he takes a day off. When a woman has a birthday, she takes three years off. Poor old fool, thought the man as he watched an old fellow trying to fish in a puddle of water outside of the bar. He decided to invite the old man inside for a drink. As they sipped their whiskeys, the man thought he'd humor the old man and asked, "So, how many have you caught so far?" The old man replied, "You're the eighth today." Christmas is the time of year when both trees and husbands get trimmed. Sometimes both get lit up, too. There is so much confusion in politics these days that the spies can't find out anything. A moron went into a department store to buy a pillowcase. "What size?" asked the sales lady. "I don't know", he said. "I wear a size 7 hat." Thankfully, the old narrow trails where two cars could barely pass without colliding are happily being replaced by splendid wide highways on which six or eight cars can collide at one time. Distraught mother to a group of wild children at a birthday party: "There will be a special prize for the one who goes home first".

by Alice J. Christianson

When others get ahead of you
in everything you try to do
Don't give up trying. Don't feel blue.
Just do the best you can.
When those you trusted let you down
And greet your smile with scowl and frown
Don't turn and run right out of town
Just do the best you can.
Though other people criticize
The things you say, your work despise
Just straighten up and raise your eyes
And do the best you can.
When sorrow strikes with crushing blow
When day by day you lonelier grow
Remember, there is one who'll know
So, do the best you can.
He'll never let you down, be sure.
Although his purpose seems obscure.
Just trust in him, keep your heart pure
And do the best you can.
So when the course of life is run
Though fame and wealth you have not won
He'll say, "That was a job well done"
So do the best you can.

That's all this time. Hope you enjoy!

Adios and God Bless,

Just for Laughs .....

On the outskirts of a small town, there was a big, old pecan tree just inside the cemetery fence. One day, two boys filled up a bucketful of nuts and sat down by the tree, out of sight and began dividing the nuts. "One for you, one for me, one for you, one for me" said one boy. Several dropped and rolled down toward the fence. Another boy came riding along the road on his bicycle. As he passed, he thought he heard voices from inside the cemetery. He slowed down to investigate. Sure enough, he heard, "One for you, one for me, one for you, one for me..." He just knew what it was. He jumped back on his bike and rode off. Just around the bend he met an old man with a cane, hobbling along. "Come here quick" said the boy, "you won't believe what I heard! Satan and the Lord are down at the cemetery diving up the souls!" The man said, "Beat it kid, can't you see it's hard for me to walk." When the boy insisted though, the man hobbled slowly to the cemetery. Standing by the fence they heard, "One for you, one for me. One for you, one for me." The old man whispered, "Boy, you've been tellin' me the truth. Let's see if we can see the Lord..." Shaking with fear, they peered through the fence, yet were still unable to see anything. The old man and the boy gripped the wrought iron bars of the fence tighter and tighter as they tried to get a glimpse of the Lord. At last they heard, "One for you, one for me. That's all. Now let's go get those nuts by the fence and we'll be done..." They say the old man had the lead for a good half-mile before the kid on the bike passed him!

Hillside Sketches

Ira Edwards (1834- 1925) attended the Albany State Normal School and began teaching in the Albion area before coming to Holley. Mr. Edwards was the principal of the Holley Academy (private school) in 1865. While presiding at the school, he became acquainted with many of the businessmen in the town.

After one year at the Academy and a teaching position in Medina, he returned to Holley. Edwards opened a hardware store in the south business block on the Public Square. When it burned in 1874, he rented space in the Edwin Bliss block on Thomas Street.

In 1886, he built his own block on the northeast corner of the square. His new store, well-stocked, was considered the finest in Orleans County. After seventy years as a family business, Ira's son, Fred, sold the store to the Gordis family in 1944. They conducted business in the same store for another forty seven years.

Edwards and his son Fred's efforts were greatly appreciated by the business community and customers they served. The same can be said of the Gordis -VanOrden family.

The Honorable Ira Edwards served as Mayor of the village, Supervisor of the Town of Murray and a member of the NYS assembly for two terms.

In 1925, Edwards died, leaving five children; Fred Frank, Lillian, Ella Ledbetter and Jennie McCrillis.

Roy Bubb's latest book, The Family Scrapbook; An Era in Holley's History will cover more detail. Anticipated publishing date is Spring 2017.

CHS Welcomes Dr. Alison Parker

The Clarendon Historical Society's October program is entitled Temperance and Suffrage: Susan B. Anthony, Frances Willard, and an Uneasy Alliance and will be presented by Dr. Alison Parker. In this talk, Dr. Alison Parker explores how Susan B. Anthony came to see the links between temperance and suffrage together. Anthony concluded that temperance reform could only be achieved through the votes of women. Why did she stop work with any temperance organization for about two decades--until she lent a helping hand to the Rochester women who organized a branch of the new Woman's Christian Temperance Union around 1874? Even as she sympathized with women pro-temperance advocates, Anthony told them: "The best thing this organization [the WCTU] will do for you will be to show you how utterly powerless you are to put down the liquor traffic. You can never talk down or sing down or pray down an institution which is voted into existence. You will never be able to lessen this evil until you have votes."

Alison M. Parker is Professor of History at the College at Brockport, State University of New York. She is the author of Articulating Rights: Nineteenth-Century American Women on Race, Reform, and the State; and Purifying America: Women, Cultural Reform, and Pro-Censorship Activism, 1873-1933. She has also published three co-edited volumes: Interconnections: Gender and Race in American History; Beyond Black and White: Race, Ethnicity and Gender in the U.S. South and Southwest and Women and the Unstable State in Nineteenth-Century America. Professor Parker co-edits the Gender and Race in American History book series for the University of Rochester Press. She is currently writing a book on Mary Church Terrell (1863-1954), the first president of the National Association of Colored Women's Clubs and a founding member of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The presentation will be held on Wednesday, October 19, 2016 at 7:00 PM at the Clarendon Historical Society which is located at 16426 Fourth Section Road, at the intersection of Route 31A and Church Street in Clarendon. It is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

We are starting to think about our program plans for 2017. Do you have a subject you would like to see presented? Let us know! For more information, call 585-638-6371 ext. 104.

Matt DeSimone is leading his Eagle Project in the Clarendon Town Park. He power washed the pavilion, and all the picnic tables. They cleaned up the grills to paint them. Bruce Hovey of Hall Road and Sean Callahan of Upper Holley Road volunteered to help and they pulled up and replaced the cement around the posts of the pavilion and Bruce cut the black top on one edge to get a straight surface. For two weekends Matt and his family, friends and fellow scouts painted and repaired the tables. Donations were made from various organizations to assist Matt in completing this. Jessica Skehan of Church Street has been kind enough to volunteer to paint a new sign that will go on the end of the pavilion.

2015 International Property Maintenance Code will be enforced as of October 3, 2016 via Town of Clarendon Zoning Ordinance Local Law # 1 of 2007 Enforce NYS Fire Prevention and Bldg. Codes.
