Benjamin Downey of Troop 59 Clarendon Boy Scouts is making plans for his Eagle Scout Project and has chosen Hillside Cemetery, specifically the Veterans Monument area. Jacob Crandall unveiled his Veterans Monument on Memorial Day and Benjamin plans to enhance the area behind this with a white vinyl picket fence that will run along the tree line.

Not only will it dress up the area and compliment the monument, it will also help with the debris that blows across and down the hillside.

The project is now in the fund/material raising phase and anyone wishing to contribute may send donations to the Clarendon Historical Society. Please designate Downey Eagle Scout project in the memo line of your check.

CLARENDON TOWN BOARD—Meeting Highlights August 2016

The Clarendon Town Board held its monthly meeting in August on the 16th, 2016 at the Clarendon Historical Society Museum Barn, Fourth Section Road in Clarendon, NY. Free hotdogs, drinks and music by the Brick Band was held from 5 to 7 pm. Supervisor Moy called the meeting to order at 7:06 PM. With the Pledge to the Flag.

JENA BUCKWELL, Powerline Road resident gave a presentation: 'UnBottle Orleans'. Ms. Buckwell informed that she is a member of AmeriCorp and currently serving with Orleans County Soil & Water working to reduce the negative impacts of bottled water in Orleans County. A summary of her presentation is included on page 9 of this Gazette.

HIGHWAY/WATER DEPARTMENT REPORT

Superintendent Larry Swanger reported the second roadside mowing is complete. Glidden and Hinds roads, between Route 237 and South Holley Road have been sealed. All nine taps are in on Water District No. 9 ext. water main; four residents have been hooked up. A water service for a new house has been installed on South Manning Road. Superintendent referenced the repair done on the South Manning Road leak and pointed out the MCWA bill this month was $5,000 lower than last; that savings was within the eight days the leak was found/repared and the meter was read. There were no signs of a leak there, but for poor water pressure at the residence. If the residents didn't call about it, the leak would have gone unnoticed. Superintendent reported that Randy Robishaw had a plumber look at his property on Fourth Section Road and thinks the culvert east of his house is plugged, causing the surface water there.

HISTORIAN/HISTORICAL SOCIETY REPORT

Historian and Society President Melissa Ierlan submitted the following written report: Winding down the season at the Clarendon Historical Society, tomorrow night we have a talk on the quarries. If you are available, please join us. I am ramping up with work on Benjamin Downey's Eagle Scout Project. Larry Swanger met us in the cemetery to decide where to situate the fencing Ben is putting in. If anyone would like to donate, please see myself or Ben. We have received the historical marker awarded to us from the Pomeroy Foundation for Herbert Taylor and it will be installed soon. We will have a ceremony in October to unveil it along with Tim Archer and any of his seventh graders who assisted in writing the grant application. The Orleans County Tourism Facebook page has been very supportive of all kinds of activities this summer. Our meetings and events as well as the County Historian's events have been advertised. It is another tool we have to get the word out.

SUPERVISOR REPORT

Supervisor Dick Moy reported time spent with Ben Downey, Boy Scout of Troop 59. He a very nice guy and has already put a lot of time into this Eagle Project. The approximate amount Ben needs to raise for the project is $3449. He has been attending local community organizations requesting donations. Supervisor Moy commended him.

NYS Real Property has sent Certificate of the Final State Equalization Rate for 2016; 100%.

Supervisor Moy acknowledged a thank you note with $100 donaton to Historian Ierlan from the VFW Post 1483; she will use the money to buy paint to 'face lift' more historical markers in the county. Supervisor informed that Melissa has been using her own money to fix up and paint the historical markers around Orleans County.

OLD BUSINESS

Supervisor reviewed discussion from the water workshop meeting held Monday, the 15th. A resolution establishing new water district fees was adopted, effective with the next water billing; new fees are included on page 5 of this Gazette.

NEW BUSINESS

The Town Board authorized Supervisor Moy to sign a Memorandum of Understanding between Orleans County and the Town of Clarendon Highway Department in regard to inter-agency communication, interoperability and cooperation.

Supervisor informed board members that he cleans almost a full bag of trash from the Town Park every week; empty pop cans, pizza boxes, etc. Supervisor expressed concern that if a receptacle was provided, it would overflow with trash. Councilmen were asked to give this problem consideration for fixing it.

TID BITS

Geary (Moose) Shenck

Greetings to one and all of you faithful followers of whatever comes next. Why did the chicken cross the road? Following are some answers given by some well-known people. George W. Bush: We really don't care why the chicken crossed the road. We just want to know if the chicken is on our side of the road or not. The chicken is either for us or against us. Dick Cheney: Where's my gun? Bill Clinton: I say again, I did not cross the road with that chicken! Einstein: Did the chicken really cross the road, or did the road move beneath the chicken? Grandpa: In my day, we didn't ask why the chicken crossed the road. Somebody told us and that was good enough. My 5 year old great nephew said it was to prove to the opossum it could be done. My question is, "Did anyone ever see the chicken cross the road?" Gardening is a matter of your enthusiasm holding up until your back gets used to it. Adults are always asking little kids what they want to be when they grow up because they're looking for ideas. Coincidence is God's way of remaining anonymous. A man wrote a letter to the I.R.S. "I have been unable to sleep knowing that I have cheated on my income tax. I understated my taxable income and have enclosed a check for two hundred dollars. If I still can't sleep, I will send the rest. I couldn't work today because I had an eye problem. They asked what kind of eye problem? I said, "I simply can't see myself working today." If voting made any difference, they wouldn't let us do it. A western was showing at our neighborhood theater, and in one exciting scene the Indians had tied the heroine to a stake. They were setting fire to her and shooting arrows at her, when a voice in the theater was heard saying, "Dear, think I'd better call home and see how the sitter is getting along with the kids." Sweet young thing to clerk in the bathing suit department: "I want something that will look alright to my mother until I put it on at the beach."

THIS MONTH'S RIDDLES:

1. Why are playing cards like wolves?
2. Why is a man in jail like a boat full of water?
3. What did the horsefly say to the blacksmith?
4. Why did the man cross the hyena with the parrot?
5. What would you get if you put a light bulb in a suit of armor?

My friend Tom is very absent minded. He would take a taxi home when his car was in the parking lot. When the taxi driver asked for his address, he often gave his telephone number. One time he was expecting a friend. He had to go out for a little while, so he pinned a note on his own door: Will be back in fifteen minutes. On returning, he saw his own note and sat and waited for himself. Some more 'old boys' comments: So this is your new dress, but you say it looks better on? On what? On fire? That's an interesting shirt. What brand is it? Clearance. I was asked, why don't you have a comb over? How exactly is my appearance going to be improved by combing my eight remaining hairs across my head to create an effect that, from above, will look like an egg in the grasp of a very large spider. The only reason I wear glasses is for little things, like driving my car, or finding it. Yes, I know I said girls always like flowers, but not when they're still attached to the rest of the wreath.

If you want your wife to pay undivided attention to every word you say, start talking in your sleep. Maybe down deep she really does love you, after all. I'm just an old fogey, what do I know? It's just that my experience of life has told me that girls tend to demonstrate their affection for their boyfriends with an expensive shirt or a watch rather than a restraining order. You know what I think his problem is? He got picked before he was ripe. I'm suffering from Mallzheimer's. I go to the shopping mall and forget where I parked my car. A doctor can bury his mistakes, but an architect can only advise his client to plant vines. The man who rests on his laurels is wearing them in the wrong place. There's a certain something about him that attracts women to other men. He's alright in his place, but they haven't dug it yet. A diplomat is a man who can convince his wife a woman looks stout in a fur coat. Man to a friend: Nobody cooks like Mabel, but they came pretty close to it when I was in the Army. Short skirts have a tendency to make men polite. Have you ever seen a man get on a bus ahead of one? A baby turtle was standing at the bottom of a large tree and with a deep sigh, started to climb. About an hour later, he reached a very high branch and walked along to the end. He turned and spread all four flippers and launched himself off the branch. On landing at the bottom in a pile of soft, dead leaves, he shook himself off, walked back to the bottom of the tree and with a sigh started to climb. About an hour later, he again reached the very high branch, walked along, turned, spread his flippers and flung himself off the branch. Again, he landed on the bottom, shook himself off, went to the bottom of the tree, sighed and started climbing. Watching these proceedings from the end of the branch were two birds. The Momma bird turned to Daddy bird and said, "Don't you think it's time we told him he was adopted?"

Because I am not perfect, my best intentions seem to sometimes miss fulfillment like the texture of a dream and I wage a daily battle that I very often lose between the things that matter and the ones I seem to choose. Because I am no angel, I am easy to mislead in spite of what I know is right I'm swayed by pride and greed. Sometimes I think I love the world too much to want to leave though eternity awaits me and all that I believe. My free will is a problem. How easy it would be if God made the decisions and took the job from me but in this there is no merit I am very well aware so I have to work for heaven every moment I am here. And, just because I'm human, it might take a little long to become what I was meant to since I'm really not that strong. So, I'll just keep on 'a trying and I'll live from day to day for my spirit is immortal though my body's made of clay.

*That's all for now! Have a great month.
Adios and God Bless,
Geary (Moose) Shenck*

Hillside Sketches

John Downs (1846-1901) was born in Clarendon and was educated in the local schools. His father, William Downs, was born in Ireland, moved to Clarendon in 1830, and became a farmer and livestock dealer.

Young John followed in his father's footsteps, becoming a success in the livestock and wool business. It wasn't long before he became one of the largest shippers of livestock in the country. In one winter, he shipped from the Detroit area 200 carloads to New York City.

Mr. Downs later moved his headquarters to Holley. He bought an interest in the local bank, engaged in real estate extensively and bought his own stone quarry. The sandstone from the quarry was used to build his new hotel, Downs Hotel (currently the Holley Hotel), on the Public Square which replaced the old Mansion House. The Temperance folks were elated when he announced there would be no alcoholic beverages sold in his hotel.

When John was thirty nine in 1885, he married Eva Glidden from Clarendon. They had four children – John Jr., Nancy, Hattie and Gladys. The Downs home is located at the traffic light in Holley. John Downs died in 1901 at the age of fifty-five, being a wealthy gentleman.

Roy Bubb's latest book, The Family Scrapbook: An Era in Holley's History will cover more detail. Anticipated publishing date is Spring 2017.

CHS Presents the Clash of Cultures

The Clarendon Historical Society welcomes Raymond Cianfrini and his presentation of "The Clash of Cultures: The Rise and Fall of the KKK in Our Area". It traces the immigration movement from 1875 to 1925 into the Town of Oakfield and County of Genesee. With the large influx of new immigrants into the area, with new languages, foods, religions and customs, it was inevitable that there would be conflict with the existing populace. The speech will concentrate on the reactions of the "old immigrants" to these "new immigrants". Aside from having difficulty in finding jobs outside of the mines and factories, the immigrants were basically excluded from most community organizations and activities. It was during this time that the northern states saw a resurgence of the KKK to deal with the large influx of immigrants. Using town and county records, newspaper articles and photographs, the speech will track the rise and fall of the KKK in our area and will illustrate the power of the Klan and what actions it took to deal with what it saw as the "immigration problem".

Mr. Cianfrini is a lifelong resident of the Village of Oakfield and a graduate of the Oakfield-Alabama Central School, the State University of Albany, and the University of Buffalo Law School. He served in the US Army from 1968 to 1970. He has conducted a private practice of law in Oakfield for the past 44 years. He served as Mayor of the Village of Oakfield for 7 years from 2000 to 2007 and is currently in his 9th year as a County Legislator for the Towns of Oakfield and Alabama and his 3rd year as the Chairman of the Genesee County Legislature.

The presentation will be held on Wednesday, August 21, 2016 at 7:00 PM at the Clarendon Historical Society which is located at 16426 Fourth Section Road, at the intersection of Route 31A and Church Street in Clarendon. It is free and open to the public. Light refreshments will be served.

UnBottle Orleans is a citizen action group working to reduce the negative impacts of bottled water in Orleans County, NY.

We aspire to create change through public outreach and education, as well as through campaigning for improved public access to drinking fountains and refilling stations to make the transition away from single-use plastic bottled water a smooth one.

UnBottle Orleans works with local museums, event planners, government agencies, employers, businesses, and individual residents to create a road map to going bottled water free.

Bottled Water Fast Facts

-  Americans drink more than 73 billion half-liter bottles of water a year— enough to circle the globe over 370 times!
-  About 77% of empty PET bottles end up in our landfills, as litter in our oceans and waterways, or are incinerated, a process that releases toxic byproducts.
-  Municipal water is subject to stricter federal safety regulations, and independent testing of bottled water has identified a wide range of bacterial and chemical contamination.
-  In 2009, almost half of all bottled water in the U.S. came from municipal tap water supplies.
-  In 2012, Americans spent $11.8 billion on bottled water. Food & Water Watch found that bottled water cost between $0.89 and $8.26/gallon, whereas tap water cost only $0.002/gallon.
-  The Pacific Institute estimates that manufacturing, producing, and transporting bottled water is 1,100 to 2,000 times as energy intensive as treating and distributing tap water.

If you are interested in taking our pledge to UnBottle Orleans, would like to request a presentation to learn more about UnBottle Orleans, or simply have a few questions, please feel free to contact unbottleorleans@gmail.com and/or follow us on Facebook. EXPLORE SOLAR OPTIONS THROUGH "SOLARIZE ORLEANS" CAMPAIGN

Visit www.solarizeorleans.com today!

Have you ever thought solar energy might be a viable option for your home or business? Solar energy not only takes advantage of a renewable resource, but it can also bring significant cost savings to electric customers. The time to investigate your options is now—The Orleans County Chamber of Commerce is currently spearheading a "Solarize Orleans" campaign to raise awareness about the potential for solar energy in our community. Most importantly, the Chamber has carefully selected a preferred solar installer, Solar by CIR, which is offering discounted installation costs for a limited time only. Any consumer interested in exploring the possibility of solar energy can contact Solar by CIR to obtain a free, no obligation feasibility analysis for their site. This report will denote what size of a system is needed, pricing, financing options, payback period, etc. With this information in hand, a resident or business can then make the decision whether or not to move forward with a solar project. The Solarize Orleans campaign launched in July 2016, and in order to take advantage of the significantly discounted pricing, all interested parties must make contact with the campaign prior to October 31, 2016. Interested parties should visit WWW.SOLARIZEORLEANS.COM for more information or to get the process going. Just click on the button that says, "Inquire about solar for your home or business," enter some basic information about your site, and then CIR will contact you promptly to walk you through the next steps. The Chamber of Commerce has been looking for ways to improve the climate for working and living in the County. The Solarize Orleans campaign is a proactive approach and any interested residents or businesses are urged to make an inquiry. James H. Hecky, an early retiree after 22 years at Xerox Corporation moved into Clarendon in 1992 and opened/operated a Custom Marine Canvas Business “Canvas Crafters” at his home at 15771 E. Lee Road. Jim had served 15 years at Xerox in the capacity of middle and upper management, served four years on the board of directors of the Bay Village Condominium Association, a 129 home community including president of the association and four years on the board of directors of the Red Jacket Yacht Club on Cayuga Lake Seneca Falls, two years as Commodore. His involvement in community and interest in long range planning and goal setting led Jim to the Town Hall and he was appointed a member of the Planning Board in 1994. In 1995 Jim was appointed Chairman of the Planning Board where he served in that capacity until his resignation in 2001. Jim’s dedication and knowledge was a valued service to the development of the town. Jim was a member of the Clarendon Historical Society and stayed active in community events, from the Halloween Haunted House & Hayride to the one most remembered being a car sponsor for and helping with the Clarendon Soapbox Car Races. Jim and his wife Donna moved to Maryland from Clarendon in 2006. He spent two years battling cancer and then lived cancer free until 2015. Jim passed away on July 3, 2016, just before his 81st birthday. Though Jim didn’t see eye to eye with the Town Board on all issues, he recognized the diverse points of view that were needed to obtain the best solutions to the problems of his Clarendon Community. Jim will be remembered as a giant of a man, with a long gray ponytail, very large hands, and a readiness to socialize! God Speed Jim.
